

COVID-19 UPDATE

As we all continue to monitor the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and globally, Frost, PLLC shares your concerns and recognizes the uncertainty it's causing you both personally and professionally. During this time, we want to assure you that the safety of our staff, professionals, clients, and community is our first priority. Accordingly, we are taking every precaution to ensure your security and welfare.

Our continued investment in technology permits our professionals to work remotely and guarantees our clients that Frost will remain fully operational during this period. When the COVID-19 concerns rapidly escalated over the past week, our professionals and staff, regardless of location, were able to work seamlessly with all of our offices and clients without interruption to client needs during this critical time of year. You can rest assured that Frost will conduct business regardless of the unknown that may present itself to us in the coming days, weeks, and months.

From the beginning of this pandemic, and through each escalation, our clients are relying on us for counsel, advice, and expertise when unforeseen challenges and disruptions occur. We want you to know that we will continue to provide the same level of service to ensure you and your business are in the best possible position while we work through this situation together.

Please contact your Frost representative(s) with questions or requests for advice as you normally would, we are here for you.

Wishing your continued health and safety,

Frost, PLLC
